

The World Bank

Calling for a world free of poverty

HELP WANTED

Position: President of the World Bank
Location: Washington – 1818 H Street NW
Salary: Performance based and proportionate to the task of serving the poor
Nationality: All nationalities eligible. Preference given to candidates from the South (Texas does not count)
Reports to: Citizens of the world

ESSENTIAL EXPERIENCE:

- 10 years in international development (military does not qualify)
- Proven experience working with global civil society
- Commitment to democratic governance

DESIRED:

- Foreign languages
- Suitable attire (good socks a must)

SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATE:

- Subject to regular external evaluation
- Committed to transparent board decision-making
- Observes the Bank's Ethics Code
- Supports merit-based staff recruitment

PROCESS:

Position open immediately. Interested candidates who are not romantically involved with World Bank staff should send their CVs to contact@worldbankpresident.org. Candidates should include an essay explaining how they would solve world poverty and achieve sustainable development. Final candidates will be publicly interviewed in all regions of the world.

Women and minorities encouraged to apply. The Bank reserves the right to screen candidates' criminal histories, including corruption charges.